Washington—Although the United States government is not a member of the league of nations there is no escaping the favorable impression which has been made here by the enthusiastic welcome given Germany by her former foes in formally admitting her to a seat of equality on the council of the league.

Eight years have gone by since the armistice and the feeling here is that the world has progressed a good deal when it can forget in such a small space of time the horrors perpetrated by the war and when a premier of France can take figuratively to his bosom the traditional enemy for whom in the last few years since hostilities ceased there has been only suspicion and distrust.

The basic difficulty in solving reparations was distrust. The main problem in disarming Europe and reducing the burdensome expenditures of peace time has been suspicion. Now with spirit of Locarno still undiminished, the nations have welcomed Germany and given back to her many of the privileges which she lost at Versailles. In the peace treaty Germany was regarded as a vanquished nation who was forced to sign a confession of guilt as well as an acceptance of foreign supervision in regulating the size of her army and navy.

GERMANY AGAIN IS POWER

Now Germany sits with the other nations and can exercise a voice as she used to have in the family of nations. No big political problem in Europe can be solved without her consent. The council of the league is made up of sovereign powers each of whom must agree before an affirmative action can be taken.

And why do the nations of the world including France now accept Germany? Because they have seen that the democratic movement in Germany is sincere and that while love of monarchy may be present as a traditional affection, the rule of the people is firmly established against autocracy.

To some extent, therefore, the slogan of the "United States for democracy" has been realized. For France regards democratic Germany as a safe member of the council of the league of nations. It is true that Spain has resigned but the loss of Spain is made up for by the admission of Germany. Spain is not a war-like nation. She is having democratic troubles now and when the sober statesmanship of Madrid some day considers the value of being on the inside especially when the Mediterranean problems rise again to plague the European powers, the seat of Spain will not be vacant.

NOT AGAINST LEAGUE

As for the United States, the unwillingness to join the league has never been accompanied by any ill will toward the league itself. The Washington government has wished the league to succeed so far as Europe is concerned. To the extent that Europe is stable, America benefits commercially. And besides, the better foundation that is built for peace in Europe and more remote become the chances of a world war.

On the whole, therefore, officials here can truly rejoice, that the league of nations is no longer a league of victors but a family of equals—a states. The United States already enjoys some of the benefits of the league, having joined in several international conferences. Also the United States has bound itself by thirty treaties to refrain from hostilities with thirty respectable nations until nine months have elapsed after the outbreak of unfriendliness and an impartial investigating commission has reported. This principle which was embodied into the league covenant and modeled after the treaties drawn by William Jennings Bryan when secretary of state, assure the world against aggression by the United States.

The admission of Germany is regarded here as a turning point in the post-war history of the world.

JAPAN FINANCE HEAD
DIES MONDAY EVENING

Tokyo—(AP)—Finance Minister S. Hayashi died at 5 o'clock Monday evening.

"SHOOT TO KILL" NEW COMMAND GIVEN TO POSTAL EMPLOYEES

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Post-office department employees were under orders to "shoot to kill" to protect the millions of dollars in their care.

Command of the department to the 22,500 railway mail clerks and the other employees of the department was determined upon Sunday by Postmaster General New at a council of war with his lieutenants as the result of the recent Illinois robbery in which bandits stole approximately $135,000 in currency.

It was indicated also that if the new order fails to protect the nation's United States Marine corps might be called upon as it was late in 1921 when banditry was prevalent.

CANADA WILL VOTE ON BIG TARIFF ISSUE

General Election Tuesday Will Decide Many Important Questions

Ottawa, Ont.—(AP)—Voters of Canada in the general election Tuesday will have an opportunity to decide whether Canada should have a protective tariff, whether Governor General Byng was, in their opinion, right or wrong in refusing a Canadian premier's request for dissolution of parliament and whether the government of former Premier Mackenzie King should be indicted at the polls for alleged maladministration of its customs department.

These subjects have been strongly to the fore in the campaign conducted by the Conservative and Liberal parties which followed the defeat of the Conservative government, headed by Premier Arthur Meighen in the house of commons on July 1.

There are 528 candidates for the 245 seats, one of which was already filled by a Liberal-Progressive who was elected by acclamation. The Conservative party is the sixteen parliament one party must therefore elect 123 members. The Conservatives had 116 in the last parliament; Liberals, 191; Progressives, 24; Labor, 2, and Independent 2.

GREAT TARIFF QUESTION

Mr. Meighen has stated that his party, if elected, will revise the whole tariff on the protective principle "giving to every industry the protection that is necessary and no more, to keep it a Canadian industry and help it grow and develop."

V. L. Mackenzie King Liberal leader, has stated that his government when in power added the basic industries and through them the whole industrial structure of the country, by its tariff policy. He says no changes in the tariff will be made that might pry on any legitimate industry if his party is returned to power.

RESCUE 4 MEN AFTER
SAILBOAT IS DISABLED

Milwaukee—(AP)—The Milwaukee coast guard picked up four men Sunday who had been in the waters of Lake Michigan for two hours after their sailing craft had been disabled. The men are John Duncan, formerly of Green Bay, Ray Powell, Frank Sykes and Lyman Dwight. The quartette had started out in the Dorello, an entry in a race to Wind Point near Racine and return. A gale was blowing and after getting outside the breakwater the other entries put back but the Dorello continued until the top mast snapped and she was disabled.

UNCOVER ANCIENT INDIAN
SKELETON IN OLD MOUND

Chicago—(AP)—The skeleton of a prehistoric American ancestor of the Indians who later roamed the mid-western plains has been uncovered in a mound at Galena, Ill., by a University of Chicago anthropological expedition. The bones, those of a man about thirty, were in a flexed position the arms folded across the breast and the knees drawn up in close approach to the chin. The find, details of which were told in dispatches to the Chicago Tribune, was made Sunday about three feet below the surface along a 1,100 foot ridge of a mound where operations have been carried on for two weeks. The skeleton is under the direction of Prof. Fay Cooper Cole.

Nearby were portions of two other skeletons while bundles of bones have been found, those of a woman, a child and a dog.

It was thought at first that the ridge might have been a fortification, after the forts of ancient type, but investigation, revealed it as a burial place. Below the ridge, in a little oak-shaded plateau, was believed to have been the village site of the primitive community.

Illinois according to Professor Cole is the key state, anthropologically speaking, in the picture of prehistoric America which science is trying to depict.

U. S. CITIZEN IS PRISONER OF MEXICANS

Bandits Rob Party in Automobile and Abduct New York Man

Mexico City—(AP)—Jacob Rosenthal, retired New York City business man who came to Mexico as a tourist, is held prisoner by bandits who attacked an automobile party forty miles from Mexico City late Sunday afternoon.

Others in the party were Jack J. Zahler, a prominent American resident of Mexico City, his wife, and Joseph Ruff, Mr. Rosenthal's son-in-law, who is also a resident of the capital. The party was returning from Cuernavaca from a weekend holiday when stopped by the bandits. All were robbed, and Mr. Rosenthal, who is more than 60 years old, was carried off.

Mr. Zahler Monday said he thought the bandits intended to kidnap Arthur Lane, under secretary of the American embassy who also spent the week end in Cuernavaca, but that they stopped the wrong automobile.

Troops were immediately sent out to pursue the bandits while other troops will guard automobiles on their way from Cuernavaca into the city as a protection against marauders.

HERRIN MAN IS SHOT TO DEATH

Two Others Are Wounded by Volley Fired by Unknown
Assailants

Herrin, Ill.—(AP)—A volley from guns of unidentified assailants near here early Sunday brought death to William Holland, 20, and serious injuries to Mack Pulliam, and his wife, Mildred, in what authorities term a sudden episode of liquor was that resulted recently in the death of two others. Pulliam and his wife are in a hospital here Monday but it is said both will recover, although it is feared the former will lose one arm.

Pulliam told authorities he was returning with his wife and Holland from a dance when several men, whom he said he did not recognize, arose from the roadside and poured a stream of bullets into his automobile. Holland's body was riddled with pistol and buckshot slugs. Pulliam was shot in the chest and arm and Mrs. Pulliam was shot in the legs.

MILWAUKEE MAN ROBBED
OF $2,230 IN JEWELRY

Milwaukee—(AP)—George Kiltz was robbed of gems valued at $2,230 Sunday when robbers entered his apartment, trussed him up with wire and took rings and other jewelry. After making a thorough search of the place they placed Kiltz in a closet, locked the door, and departed. It was two hours later that Kiltz succeeded in freeing himself and sounding an alarm.

TWO ALLEGED MURDERERS
DEMAND SECOND HEARING

Dedham, Mass.—(AP)—Sixty three affidavits in support of a motion for a new trial for Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted of murder, were submitted Monday by Judge Webster Thayer Monday. All were based upon a confession by Celestino Madeiros, a condemned murderer, that he was implicated in the double murder in 1920 for which Sacco and Vanzetti were convicted. The confession exonerated them.

COOLIDGE READY TO BREAK SUMMER ADIRONDACK CAMP

Paul Smiths, N. Y.—(AP)—This is "going home" week at the summer white house. President and Mrs. Coolidge will break camp either Friday night or Saturday, returning to Washington on the same special train that brought them to the Adirondacks early in July. Although Mr. Coolidge has not indicated whether he will leave late Friday, arriving in the national capital next morning or make the journey by daylight Saturday, it is understood he is giving serious consideration to the day trip, which would give thousands of people in New York state cities an opportunity to greet him.

So far as has been indicated the president will take no part in the fall campaign either in New York or other states.

DIDN'T KNOW
OF SPLIT FEE,
MERTON SAYS

Legal Sparring Takes Up
Most Time at Session of Daugherty Trial

New York—(AP)—Richard Merton, German capitalist, and star witness for the government in the trial of former Attorney General H. M. Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, testified Monday he had no knowledge of a "split up" of a $441,000 fee between the accused and John T. King, former Connecticut national committee-man.

Legal sparring consumed the greater part of the first session of Monday's trial of the former attorney general and former alien property custodian, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government.

Merton was on the stand for cross examination but little headway was made because of the time spent in thrashing out legal aspects.

Two jurors asked the court and defense counsel the exact date of the transfer of the stock of the Metals Co. to the Societe Suisse, alleged neutral organization and charged by the government as being a holding company for two German metal organizations controlled by Merton.

The assets of the Metals company were seized during the war and sold for $7,000,000 the amount being turned over to the Swiss organization. Merton was finally admitted by Merton that the stock was transferred in March, 1917.

AMOUNT PAID AS "FEE"

Merton paid this amount to King he said as a "fee" for recovering the $7,000,000 assets of the American Metals Co. from the alien property custodian. The company was then sold and the $7,000,000 was turned over to the Societe Suisse allegedly a neutral organization but contended by the government to be German controlled.

Merton said he saw King, upon his arrival in New York rather than later because he had a distrust for "unscrupulous" lawyers who were then flooding Germany with offers to regain seized property for a fee.

Merton also testified that he told Colonel Miller at their first meeting that the Societe Suisse was owned by the Swiss and that he tried to divert his attention from giving other details of ownership.

GIRL STICKS TO
STORY OF MURDER

Says She Fired Shot Which Killed Atlanta Grocer
Christmas Eve

Milledgeville, Ga.—(AP)—Ruby Ray, Monday, held to her story that she fired the shot which killed William H. Cheek, following an attempted holdup of the latter's Atlanta grocery store last Christmas eve.

Miss Ray, who was sentenced to six years as an accomplice to the slaying Sunday told William B. H. Dunn, Monday, that she and not Jack Wilson, committed the murder. E. Mel Gore, convicted as an accomplice, is under sentence to die in the electric chair here Tuesday. Theodore Berry is now under sentence of life imprisonment and police have conducted an unsuccessful search for Wilson, who they believe was the actual slayer. The Ray girl's statement was made near Gore's cell and the condemned man leaned against the bars, listening to her words.

CHEEK WAS KILLED IN HIS GROCERY STORE WHEN HE INSISTED ON NOT BUYING FROM WILSON AND MISS RAY.

BOBBY JONES FINISHES
COURSE TWO UNDER PAR

Short Hills, N. J.—(AP)—Bobby Jones, Georgia's wizard of the links Monday played the difficult Baltusrol course in 70, two strokes under par in the first 13-hole round of the qualification test for the National Amateur championship. The champion's score, six strokes better than the lowest previous score of the day, posted by Lauren Upson of Englewood, N. J., was one of the most brilliant exhibitions in the career of the 24-year-old Atlantan.

On almost every hole Jones was putting for birdie and not once during his journey over the New Jersey layout did the little holder require more than par figures.

MACHINES ARE HOPE
OF HUMANITY, SAYS
EDISON IN ARTICLE

New York—(AP)—Thomas A. Edison thinks machines are the "hope of humanity" and that the future of the race depends on the quantity production and the invention of new and more complex machines to make it possible.

Expressing his views in an interview in the current edition of the Forum, the electrical wizard says he has no distrust of machines and thinks they will prove the "emancipator" of the human race.

Believe Attempt To Bomb Mussolini Plotted Abroad

Assassin Fought With Best
Italian Troops During War
With Germany

Rome—(AP)—The assassin who attempted the life of Premier Mussolini Saturday by throwing a bomb at his automobile is believed to be Gin Lucetti, 26, a native of Avenza, Tuscany. According to the new account given by the prisoner, he arrived in Rome, Aug. 2, took lodgings in a third class hotel under a false name, and began patrolling the streets through which he thought the premier might pass.

He constantly carried two bombs in his belt, with a piece of emery paper strapped to his wrist, this to set in operation the detonating apparatus on the missiles. The fact that the premier's car was driven over different routes between his office and residence baffled Lucetti at first.

The prisoner's personal characteristics are such that the police are not inclined to take even his present story at its full face value. He is evidently a man of education, although a stone cutter by trade. His family at Avenza is said to be fairly well to do.

Lucetti is of medium height, dark and very robust. He fought in the war serving with Italy's choicest shock troops. Later he lived for eight years in France.

The police assert that the evidence thus far still supports their theory that the attempt was the outcome of larger machinations abroad rather than individual action on the part of the prisoner.

Further progress is being made by the eight persons wounded in the attempt on Mussolini, all having already been discharged from the hospital except three.

WOMAN ADMITS
FAKING STORY
OF M'PHERSON

Says She Was Paid $5,000 for "Confession" by Noted Evangelist

Los Angeles, Calif.—(AP)—The Examiner, in a copyrighted story Monday, says Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman McDonald Sella, 31, a week seamstress, has confessed that her story of having shared a seaside cottage at Carmel, with a sister, the anonymous "Miss X," and Kenneth G. Ormiston, former Angelus temple radio operator, was a fake for which she was to receive $5,000 from Almee Semple McPherson, the evangelist.

Some time after Mrs. McPherson reappeared, witnesses were found at Carmel, California, who said Ormiston had occupied a cottage at Carmel a part of the time that the evangelist was missing with a woman who looked like Mrs. Pershon. The admission was made in a sworn statement.

The alleged confession climaxed a dramatic meeting between Mrs. Sella and her twin sister, Mrs. Arla Kimball of Oakland, and it is said to have been made at the request of the latter. They met in the newspaper office, the sisters kissed, and Mrs. Sella announced her intention of "making a clean breast of the whole thing." She dictated her statement.

APPROACHED THE STRANGER

Mrs. Sella stated she was approached in San Francisco about July 30, by a man who gave his name as "Mr. Martin" and who asked her if she would come to Los Angeles on "some work which would pay good money and would only take a few weeks."

She said the man could give her only a few details, but informed her that the work offered was in connection with the McPherson case. She stated that she was instructed to send a telegram to District Attorney Asa Keyes at Los Angeles, declaring that her sister, who was in the east had been with Ormiston at Carmel and that she had wired the sister to return immediately. The same day Keyes received a wire from San Francisco signed "Belle Owen." Mrs. Sella said she left that night for Los Angeles.

Methodists Vote To Hold
Conference Here In 1927

Appleton was unanimously chosen as the place of the 1927 session of the Wisconsin Conference of Methodist Episcopal churches, because of its splendid facilities for the conference members; because of the fine manner of entertaining the delegates and the splendid program of addresses, musical entertainment and lectures and because of the efficient and well directed manner of handling conference business without confusion or delay. The choice was made at a special session of the conference Saturday evening.

Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college started the movement to have the conference return to Appleton next year in an address before the conference earlier in the week when he told the members that Appleton was the logical place to come next year. He then invited the conference to return to Appleton. The conference praised Dr. J. A. ROWBOATS AID RESCUE

Damage to Livestock and Buildings Mounting Steadily in State

Emporia, Kansas—(AP)—Three persons were known to have lost their lives, hundreds were homeless or marooned in their houses, and damage to livestock and buildings was mounting steadily Monday as flood waters of the Neosho, Cottonwood and Verdigris rivers swept southeastern Kansas following rains Sunday and Sunday night which in some sections approached cloudburst proportions.

Starting at the headwaters of the three rivers, the flood swept southeast through Emporia, Madison, Burlington and intermediate points swelling in volume as it came. Water-threatened householders fled for their lives. Many, taken unaware, were rescued in rowboats from the roofs and second stories of their homes.

A large section of the town of Neosho Falls, about 35 miles southwest of here, was reported as virtually inundated at midnight, with some residents forced to the roofs of houses. A banker who reported not reached the town, stood in water on the second floor of a building while telephoning the report.

NEOSHO RISING STEADILY

The section hardest hit apparently included a territory nearly 25 miles wide starting about ten miles west of here and extending more than fifty miles southeast along the Neosho and Cottonwood valleys. Iola, a town of nearly 8,000 population was threatened early this morning. The Neosho was reported with the highest point in the history of Iola and was rising slowly. The torrent threatened the central section of the city, but had driven scores of persons from their homes in the western residential district.

Rainfall at Neosho Falls broke all records for the storm with 14 inches. The village of Leroy reported 11 inches. Fourteen miles southeast of Burlington, on the Neosho, the towns of Leroy and Moody were hard hit.

FARMER DROPS DEAD

Dan Braum, county agent for Coffey-co, declared Sunday night that twenty farm homes were completely washed away in his neighborhood with heavy losses of livestock.

Charles Edgess, 60, a farmer near Burlington who served as county commissioner during the disastrous floods here of 1922 dropped dead Sunday morning when he peered from his bedroom window to see the tide rapidly encroaching on his front steps.

The heroism of a telephone girl, Mrs. June Chubb, who stuck to her post in spite of the rising waters to spread the alarm probably saved the lives of many Burlington residents who slept unaware of the danger. She was rescued in a row boat from the second story of the telephone exchange.

All retired ministers of the conference were especially honored at the Saturday afternoon session, when the ministers prayed for blessings for the retired men who occupied the front seats in the church auditorium.

Bishop William O. Shepard, of Portland, Ore., preached the sermon and conducted the love feast for conference members Sunday morning. He also conducted the ordination services Sunday afternoon. The following men were ordained deacons: Fred Frankson, D. De Brail, L. E. Jones, T. A. Melling, E. W. Perry, R. F. Pfeiffer, C. A. Seldenspinner, and F. W. Wright. The following were ordained elders: Orval C. Dittis and W. R. Peterson.

Dr. F. R. Fulkerson of New York, representing the board of Foreign missions gave a talk on Religion and Christianity Sunday evening.

Reading of the list of appointments took place at the final meeting Monday morning and the eightieth annual conference closed its session.

AUDIENCE FILLS CHURCH TO HEAR BISHOP SHEPARD

Presiding Officer of Methodist Conference Delivers Sunday Sermon

SHEPARD

"I live and yet not I but Christ liveth in me" was the theme of the sermon by Bishop William O. Shepard of Portland, Ore., at the Sunday morning service of the Annual Wisconsin conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in Appleton. More than 1,500 people heard the bishop. The lobby of the church was crowded with people who could not be seated in the auditorium.

McKee sang two anthems "Fear Not, O Israel" by Buck and "I Will Exult Thee" by Costa. Dr. William P. Leek, Dr. H. C. Hogan, Dr. C. P. Spray, and Dr. Richard Evans assisted in the services.

"We have never understood the philosophy of the world until we know that as the father in the beginning breathed upon man the breath of life, so Jesus Christ has given power to breathe again upon us the breath of life. Paul tells us, 'down here we are just babies, all we can do is lisp' and the Lord God does not expect us to do more than that. When the Christ shall appear in his glory then shall we appear in our glory. But this is not our glory; it is only our beginnings."

Bishop Shepard used as his text the words of Paul in first Epistle to the Corinthians: "The first man is of the earth, earthy, and the second man is the Lord from Heaven. And so it is written the first man Adam was made a living soul and the last man Adam was made a quickening spirit."

SOULS ARE DEAD
"Man became a living soul," is not an inconsistency," the speaker declared, "for there are in the world thousands who are living in the slums of life who are dead souls. They are not soulless. 'Slum' is a corruption of the word 'swamp.' It is a corruption of the word 'swamp' in immortality and immolation. In the slums of our cities even the word 'Mother' falls on dead ears, on dead wills and on dead souls lost in the treasuries of dead souls. The slums exist because they are dead. The dead souls do not exist because there are slums."

"After God created man he placed him in a garden of delight and told him that he could partake of the fruit of all the trees except one. But man partook of the forbidden fruit and he became a dead soul. When man sins he forever after lives at low levels of joy. All of his joys are of the lower physical sort that the animals themselves under certain conditions might partake."

Man can be saved from this condition of sin and corruption in only one way, Bishop Shepard believed.

"He can be saved by living with Christ. What has repentance to do with pardon? How do we get the power to live in a world like this where temptation is around us? It is from the Christ," the speaker declared. "If he has no mind but himself, man has a price. Salvation from sin is prayer, not will."

"If man departs from God he loses his glory and if God departed from man, he would be less than the beasts of the field. The life that is high and holy and pure is more to man than immortal life, for I know that the Lord God will not live in glory and leave us beyond."

DEFINITION OF CHRISTIAN
"What is a Christian?" he asked. Is it the man who is kind and loving and moral? No, for a man can be all of these and still not be a Christian nor pretend that he is. A Christian is all of these but it is because he is a Christian that he is so. But he is a Christian because he lives with Christ. He is a man for whom God has done something, whose heart God has opened, with whom and in

Three Day Inspection Trip Over County Roads Wins Approval

Initial steps toward the formation of details to govern the proposed three-day road tour of the county board of supervisors, and their guests, through the county during the November board session, were to be taken before the highway commission, meeting at the courthouse Monday afternoon, it was reported by Highway Commissioner A. C. Brusewitz.

Only a small number of routine bills were to be presented to the commission and then the discussion was to be devoted entirely to outlining tentative arrangements for the tour, it was reported.

"The proposal," Mr. Brusewitz said, "has already met considerable general approval but it remains to complete each day's itinerary, work out time schedules and procure promises of transportation for as many persons as may desire to join in the road inspection."

In connection with the latter phase of the tour Mr. Brusewitz announced that he would appreciate it if anyone desiring to make the daily trips would notify him by mail so that lists can be compiled and seats allotted to each individual.

It is probable that two road construction companies will be working at the time of the tour so that actual road building methods can be studied and explained.

An invitation also will be officially extended to members of the state highway commission to join the Outagamie county lawmakers. It is considered probable that a representative from Madison will be assigned to the county for the period required to complete the daily jaunts, Mr. Brusewitz said.

WARN HOLY NAME MEN TO PROTECT CONSTITUTION

Warning members of the Holy Name society to staunchly uphold the constitution of the United States because the constitution is a guarantee of the liberties which Americans now enjoy, Edward L. Kelly, Manitowish, spoke to between 250 and 350 men at the monthly Holy Name society breakfast in St. Joseph hall Sunday morning.

Mr. Kelly told how the Supreme court had decided in the famous Oregon school case that education of children is a natural right of parents and that if it were not for the Supreme court the freedom of press and freedom of religion might be imperiled. He cautioned his audience against any party or any movement which was directed against the Supreme court or the constitution.

Announcement was made at the meeting that an open card party will be held by the society in St. Joseph hall on Wednesday evening.

NEXT 25 YEARS TELL STORY OF CHRISTIANITY

Dr. Fulkerson Tells Methodists This Is Vital Age for Religion

"Vital Christianity is standing at the crossroads of all history, and the next 25 years will tell the story," the Rev. E. R. Fulkerson, representing the board of foreign missions, told a large audience Sunday evening during the eighth session of the Wisconsin Annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. The subject of Dr. Fulkerson's address was Religion and Civilization.

"Failure of Christianity to devise a plan to stop periodic human slaughter, and the seeming inability of Christianity to translate into terms of life and human relationship the things which it believes in theory," are two of the greatest difficulties of the present age, he said. "The present moment is the most auspicious in the history of the world, for the world is plastic. If there ever was a time when the church needed a definite program that has Jesus Christ in it, it is at the present moment."

"There never was a time in the history of the world when race hatred was as acute as it is today. The only solution is the Christianization of the leadership of the world first, and then the rank and file."

"The time has come when we people of America must find out what the other fellow believes," Dr. Fulkerson declared. He cited the Imperial University of Japan, with an attendance of 7,500 students, of whom 178 were Buddhists, less than a hundred Christians, and the rest agnostics.

"The western church has been held to be synonymous with western civilization, and had to stand for the weaknesses of civilization," Dr. Fulkerson held, pointing to the opium trade in this and other countries with China, and the liquor traffic in many countries, which he contrasted with the efforts of a few missionaries.

HI-Y RETREAT WILL BE HELD ON RESERVATION

Appleton Hi-Y club will hold its second annual retreat Saturday and Sunday on the banks of the Wolf river in the Menominee Indian reservation, according to plans made by the club executive committee Saturday afternoon.

The trip will be made in cars leaving the city early Saturday morning. About 20 boys are expected to attend. John W. Pugh, club leader, will accompany them.

The plans made by the committee will be presented to the entire club at its regular meeting Wednesday evening. The retreat will be a discussion conference.

JURY DISAGREES IN LAWSUIT FOR $5,000 DAMAGES

Court Dismisses Jurors When They Fail to Arrive at Verdict

After deliberating more than six hours Saturday the jury sitting in the case of Kenneth Booth against Walter Plummer and Ray Stark, codefendants, in which the plaintiff sought $5,000 for alleged assault and battery and false arrest, failed to agree and was dismissed by Judge Theodore Berk.

The case went to the jury shortly after 1 o'clock and a disagreement was announced at 8 in the evening. Plummer, candidate for sheriff in Winnebago-co., and Stark, are alleged by Booth to have administered a beating to him during and subsequent to his arrest at a dance hall last May 2.

It had not been decided Monday whether the case will be brought up for new trial, it was announced by Mark Catlin, who with Attorney E. C. Smith, represent the plaintiff. Attorneys John J. Lonsdorf and D. K. Allen represent the defendants.

DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY BUT HIS CAR IS WRECKED

Anton Timmers, Little Chute, an attendant for an Appleton oil filling station narrowly escaped serious injury late Sunday afternoon when a heavy coupe he was driving tipped over when it ran off the road on county trunk highway. E about one-half mile from Freedom.

Two wheels broken, the top crushed and all glass broken, represented the damage to the car.

Although there were no witnesses to the accident it is believed that the automobile got out of control as Timmers made a wide turn in passing another machine.

Leaving the road the automobile careened along the right of way for some distance before the front wheels struck a temporary causeway leading from the highway over a ditch and forming an ingress into a field.

The obstruction of heavy logs and stone received the full impact of the automobile.

Timmers, it is reported, was alone at the time of the accident.

STATE WEDDINGS

PFLUEGER-SHEEY
Special to Post-Crescent
Brillon—Miss Mildred Pflueger and John Shee, both of this city, were married at 9 o'clock Wednesday at St. Mary's church by Rev. A. Gart-haus. The bride was attended by Miss Irene Marigan, as maid of honor and Miss Edna Christel as bridesmaid.

The groomsmen were his brothers Edward and Earl Shee. Miss Magdalena Pflueger acted as flower girl.

The bride wore a gown of satin faced tulle and carried a bouquet of pink tea roses, after the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to about 50 relatives and friends at the home of the bride's parents. The bridal couple left on a motor trip to Wisconsin Dells, Madison, and Minneapolis.

Mrs. Shee will continue her position as bookkeeper at the Fritz Hardware Co. Mr. Shee is a well known driller, recently purchasing the business from John Puser. They will be at home to friends after Oct. 1, on Center-st.

COMMITTEE DISCUSSES ROUND-UP PREPARATION
The membership committee of the Y. M. C. ## WON'T APPOINT INDUSTRY BOARD UNTIL SEPT. 15

Mayor Rule Will Name Members of Industrial Committee at Council Meeting

Appointment of an industrial committee in compliance with a resolution adopted by the common council at its last meeting will not be made by Mayor Albert C. Rule until the next council meeting Wednesday evening, Sept. 15, he intimated Friday.

The committee will be composed of four members, including Mayor Rule. Appointments probably will be made so that the Trades and Labor council, merchants and manufacturers will be represented, according to Mayor Rule. The resolution authorizing the mayor to take this action was adopted by the council in the belief that the city's civic organizations were not extending themselves sufficiently toward securing new industrial enterprises for Appleton, according to supporters of the movement. The decision of the Menzies Shoe company of Fond du Lac to locate a new factory at New London evidently caused action by the council on the matter.

The report that New London not only gave the shoe firm a site free of charge but granted certain tax exemptions was branded as false both by E. W. Wendlandt, mayor of New London, and S. D. Nichols, president of The Menzies Shoe Co., in letters received by Mayor Rule Friday morning.

According to the letters, New London, or rather the citizens of that city, gave the firm $100,000 as a bonus to locate its factory there, and the shoe company in turn furnished the city with a surety bond guaranteeing to pay out in wages $1,000,000 in the next ten years. Six months time was allowed for the erection of the factory. No tax exemptions were granted the company and the site for the factory was purchased from the city, the letters stated.

The purpose of the industrial committee, of which Mayor Rule will be chairman, will be to conduct investigations of outside industrial firms seeking new locations, and attempt to induce such firms to settle in Appleton, the resolution adopted by the council provides.

NONRESIDENT FISHERS APPLY AT MADISON

Nonresidents who wish to hunt in Wisconsin must make their application for a license direct to the Conservation commission at Madison. It was pointed out Tuesday by County Clerk John E. Hantschel.

The charge for a nonresident hunting license for birds and small game is $25 annually while $50 must be paid if the hunter intends to shoot deer, the law states. Settlers' licenses also must be procured directly from Madison. This form of license is rare as the laws governing it only apply to actual homesteaders, it was stated.

ENROLLMENT OF HOME MAKING GIRLS GROWS

Registration in Other Groups at Vocational School to Be Normal

Half-time home making groups of girls between the ages of 14 and 16 years will have a decidedly increased enrollment at Appleton Vocational school this year. Herb H. Hellig, director, announced following the registration of students Tuesday. Other groups in the school will have normal registrations or only a slight increase as anticipated in the preregistration of students last week.

Classes in the girls' part time groups are now overcrowded. It was said, and it is expected that more registrations will be received within the next few days.

Entrance requirements at the school are the same as last year, the director announced, but because of the increased enrollment it will be necessary to adhere more strictly to the legal requirements of vocational schools than heretofore. Only persons between the ages of 14 and 18 years are eligible for entrance, and it is necessary to present either a birth certificate or a certificate of baptism as legal proof of age. An eighth grade school education is required by law or at least nine years of schooling beyond the kindergarten in the attempt to finish eighth grade. However, if the boy or girl has reached the age of 16, this ruling does not hold, according to the law.

Registration for evening classes will take place on Sept. 20, 21 and 22 when the school will be open evenings. Classes in night work will not start until Oct. 5.

TEACHING AS A CAREER

How many of those who enter the teaching profession do so with the intention of making teaching their career? Estimates by those familiar with the subject place it at a scant half. Even a prominent educator, in urging the merits of pedagogy, calls attention to the fact that it is an "excellent stepping stone." In which instance he has put his finger on the very canker that threatens the teaching profession.

Teaching, when used as a stepping stone instead of a career, gives rise to various ills and evils. In the first place, 50 per cent are not concerned with teaching and keeping the profession of teaching on a high plane, but with using it as a point of vantage from which to launch upon some more lucrative, more professionally promising career. This entails constant change in teaching personnel and a resulting dearth of capable and experienced instructors. But the greatest disadvantage is that our children are not receiving the competent tutelage and guidance that can be afforded only by the man or woman who follows pedagogy, not as a stepping stone, but as a life work.

"What is wrong with the teaching profession?" asked "The Delineator," in a recent essay contest. Out of 2,300 who competed, more than 1,100 gave as their reason for abandoning the teaching career the lack of esteem in which the profession is held. Coupled with the ever-present dissatisfaction with the scale of remuneration, this drives many of our best teachers into other fields.

What is the answer? It is to make teaching attractive as a life work for ambitious men and women of the highest calibre, to restore it to its merited respect, to accord it proper and adequate remuneration. Put the teacher in his rightful place in society and give him sufficient income to maintain his position and the difficulty will be solved. Sooner or later we must do this or our over-praised educational system will collapse.

A CLASSIC REVIVAL

It is curious that just as Greek almost entirely disappeared from our college curricula, and is no longer a required study, the Greek spirit should of recent years have made such extensive conquests. The remark is suggested by the annual beauty pageant at Atlantic City, which ended last night with the crowning as queen of a young woman from Tulsa, whose features are "Grecian in the clean-cut eyes set off by almost severe coiffure of her straight, long hair." "God give me beauty," was according to Emma Jabarus, the cry of Greek. It is also the cry of the American, for not since the days of the worship of Aphrodite has there been such a beauty cult as that which now flourishes in "these states," and not for many years has beauty been so frankly displayed. We have, it is true, departed somewhat from the old standards in exalting feminine above masculine beauty, whereas, with the Greeks, it may almost be said that the contrary was the rule. Apollo and Ganymede probably outclassed Aphrodite and Hebe—and Adonis was unapproachable. There, is, too, danger that we may materialize our worship. In the great Olympic games the winner was content with a laurel wreath as his reward. The victor in the Atlantic City contest, on the other hand, received a $1,000 diamond watch, a silver loving cup and a $5,000 gold mermaid.

The Greek spirit is manifesting itself in many ways, as in the stadiums that dot the land, and the contests held there.

in. Outdoor sports are absorbing the energies of more and more of our young men and maidens each year. We have even revived the Marathon race, and are developing many a Pheidippides. The Olympic games themselves are now a feature of our culture. It is all Greek, though of course there is no conscious imitation. Yet it must be admitted that there were some Greeks who cared little for outdoor sports or beauty contests, who were devoted wholly to things of the mind—philosophy, poetry, the drama, history, architecture, etc. It is to be feared that Socrates has few votaries, and that Plato is hardly more than a name—if even that. It might be well to give some attention to this side of Greek life—to the thought of a very great people.

It should be remembered that there were many people in the old Greek days who cared nothing about Socrates and the rest, who even poked fun at them. Nor was the fate of Socrates such as to encourage the tendency toward intellectual and spiritual culture. There were, however, contests among poets, with prizes for the victor. On the whole it must be said that we have yet much to learn from the Greeks. When we have fully absorbed the lesson we shall perhaps realize that the classroom is of at least equal importance with the stadium.

QUEEN MARIE'S VISIT

The United States is soon to be honored by the visit of Queen Marie of Roumania. This monarch, who for years has longed to see the United States, will not come incognito, but will travel as a queen. This means that she will be unable to accept any invitation of private citizens. Consequently some 30,000,000 people of this country are gnashing their teeth, for that is the number represented by individual and organization invitations which have been received by Her Majesty since she announced her projected visit.

As a matter of fact, it is better for the queen to travel as such than as a private citizen, incognito, for in the latter instance she would be tied up to hostesses and be hedged about with the receptions and dinners and dances and balls and what not that she could not very well get out of. As a queen, however, she can dictate her own course and she will receive the hospitality of cities, of states and of the nation in a manner that will give her a much more comprehensive picture of America as it really is.

Perhaps at some future time Queen Marie will honor us with a visit, incognito. We hope that her first visit will so interest her that she will wish to come again. If so then she can enjoy the hospitality of private drawing rooms and be lionized by the elite and those who would like to be elite. The fact, however, that she dodged that method this time convinces us that Queen Marie has much good sense, and uses it.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

Well, the old vacation's over, and I'm back at work again. I've been a loafin' rover like a lot of other men. The only thing that nags me every day and halts my cheer is the postal cards I'm getting, saying "wish that you were here."

It seems that everybody whom I've ever chanced to meet is thinking sending postal cards to me is quite a treat. I get no news about them, but they make it very clear that I never need to doubt them when they write, "wish you were here."

No wonder I am longing for the mountain and the stream. No wonder thoughts still linger in the old vacation dream. Instead of getting down to work my thoughts are still, I fear, upon the spots from where folk write, "I wish that you were here."

You're not supposed to answer, when the postals come each day. Friends simply "wish that you were here," and send them on their way. But, shucks, I'd like to write them all. I'd never bat an eye, but simply say, "thanks for the wish—and frankly, so do I."

Swimming the channel was nothing compared with the feat of the woman who got into her house after leaving hubby there a month alone.

The little girl who used to play with Jacks has grown up now and plays with Johns and Henrys as well.

Chances are if you were in a silly person's shoes you wouldn't act as intelligent as he does.

It's still warm enough to undress before putting on your pajamas, but it won't be long now.

Modern young people might think more of their future life if you could play jazz on a harp.

When you have a bad dream, hop out of bed and write it down. It may be a good movie plot.

It's natural a man's second wife shouldn't love him as much as his first. He's been revamped.

The most comical comic strips are not in the papers. They are seen at the bathing beaches.

When a man isn't making enough money to get married on it may be because he is single.

It's all right to profit by your mistakes, but it's cheaper to profit by the mistakes of others.

The modern Jack and Jill might go up the hill for a package of cigars, but not a pail of water.

There are a great many lies told simply because the truth often sounds like a poor excuse.

Any flower can grow in a greenhouse, but it takes one with nerve to get along in the woods.

RINGWORM OF HANDS AND FEET

A new form of ringworm, affecting chiefly the hands and feet of persons who patronize public gymnasia and swimming pools, has been recognized in the last few years. This condition was formerly called "eczema."

In a technical article on the prevalence of the trouble Dr. Joseph Brumberg, Buffalo skin specialist, remarks that doubtless there have always been a certain number of cases of this form of ringworm, but it seemed to come to a crisis when three or four million young men were thrown into such close contact in the army. A few years after the army was demobilized the trouble became quite prevalent among the general population.

Dr. Brumberg finds that the infection occurs wherever people walk about barefoot, as in gymnasiums, baths, athletic clubs, swimming pools, summer resort beaches, or in the home. One affected person leads a lot of loose skin which carries some of the ringworm fungi; the next barefoot person comes along and picks up the flake of skin on his toes and so acquires the disease. Touching or scratching his toes with his fingers, the victim spreads the trouble to his hands and forearms, and sometimes to other parts of the body.

Characteristic features of this ringworm dermatitis are:

1. White, moist lardlike deposits between the toes.
2. Cracking between the toes.
3. Unusual callus formations on the soles or unusual soft corns between the toes.
4. Deep seated blisters on the foot.
5. Toenails become thickened, crumbling, irregular.

On the hands the ringworm lesions are well defined patches, readily mistaken for simple eczema, situated on the sides of the fingers and between the fingers. On hands or feet the trouble may be mistaken for itchy molting at first.

The ringworm spores are found by microscopic examination of a bit of skin shaved off the top of a blister.

In order to eradicate the ringworm spores from the skin it is necessary to (1) remove all dead skin and scales; (2) scrub to the limit of endurance with soap and water; (3) persistently apply such parasiticides as salicylic acid, potassium permanganate, or chrysarobin. In some cases mild x-ray treatment helps, but x-rays alone will not cure.

Some reader reported a year ago that he found an effective remedy for an obstinate itching lesion between the toes. He said a single daily application of a rather strong solution of salicylic acid in alcohol puts an end to the trouble. I should suggest that 30 grains of salicylic acid in an ounce of alcohol or in an ounce of water if alcohol is not obtainable, is strong enough, and one painting or swabbing of the affected portion of skin each day is sufficient. Even this should not be used for more than a week, unless under medical observation.

It would be mighty bad treatment to apply any such parasiticides to a simple eczema or simple dermatitis form contact with irritating chemicals, for instance.

So before you undertake to annihilate the ringworm fungi be sure you have ringworm.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

What is — a woman complains of so much and pain almost every day. An old woman told her that was the trouble and only liquid food should be taken. I am a maiden woman and I think constipation is this woman's only trouble. (M. E. A.)

Answer—Can't break the rules even to please a woman. Against the rules to offer samples of diseases for correspondents or readers to try on. (Copyright John F. Dille Co.)

Would You Like to Be Attractive?

A beautiful woman is always admired. There are many types of beauty. But no woman can be truly beautiful unless she is healthy. Radiant vitality is always attractive, however plain a woman's features may be.

Many a woman has found her health improved through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This remedy has been taken by women for more than half a century with very satisfactory results.

If Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped other women, why shouldn't it help you? adv.

History And Purpose Of Union Shown

"The Seven Ages," a pageant depicting the purpose and history of the Womens Christian Temperance union from the time of the early crusaders to the present day, was one of the features of the state convention of the W. C. T. U. which was held Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Baraboo. The local union was represented by Miss Inez Gurnee.

Characters who appeared in the pageants were dressed in costumes and told the story of the beginning of the temperance work in Hillsboro, O. The final tableau, "Golden Age," was an impersonation of the three states, the Goddess of Liberty, Justice, and Vision.

A resolution was unanimously adopted that congratulatory messages be sent to successful candidates representing principles for which the union stands. The report of the corresponding secretary, Eva C. Lewis, showed an increase of 171 new members. Among the principal speakers were Dorothy Walker, district attorney of Columbia county who addressed the convention on the opening night.

OSHKOSH OPENS
GRIDIRON YEAR
FOR KAUKAUNAElectric City Team Books
Stiff Games for 1926 Season

Kaukauna—Oshkosh High school will be the Kaukauna's first opponent in football this fall. The Sawdust City school will come here on Saturday, Sept. 25. Oshkosh has always had a strong team and according to reports from that city between seventy and eighty men are turning out every evening for practice. This gives Oshkosh plenty of material from which to select a team.

Although it is too early to start Saturday, Oct. 2, Kaukauna defeated team early reports seem to show plenty of material from which to pick a team. Light scrimmage was started last week.

Shawano comes to Kaukauna on Saturday, Oct. 2. Kaukauna defeated Shawano at Shawano 6 to 0 last year after a hard fight and another win is hoped for this year.

Kaukauna will meet three Fox River Valley conference teams this coming season. They are West Green Bay, Oshkosh and Appleton. Of the three West Green Bay appears to be the strongest for it has many of last year's veterans back.

Kaukauna lost its only game to West Green Bay last season by a 17 to 10 score.

The complete schedule.
Sept. 25—Oshkosh at Kaukauna.
Oct. 2—Shawano at Kaukauna.
Oct. 9—Neenah at Neenah.
Oct. 16—West Green Bay at Green Bay.
Oct. 23—Open.
Oct. 30—Two Rivers at Two Rivers.
Nov. 6—Open.
Nov. 13—Appleton at Kaukauna.

NEARLY 100 STUDENTS
IN LUTHERAN SCHOOL

Kaukauna—Nearly one hundred students have enrolled at the Lutheran Parochial school for the fall term. This is about the same number as attended last year, according to Principal Theodore Boettcher. While the numbers attending the lower grades is not as large it is more than made up for by the increased attendance in the seventh and eighth grades.

Other members of the faculty besides Mr. Boettcher are Martin Hoffman and Miss Radder. Miss Radder has charge of the first, second and third grades and Mr. Hoffman has the fourth and fifth while Mr. Boettcher has the sixth, seventh and eighth.

BROEREN FUNERAL IS HELD AT HOLLANDTOWN

Kaukauna—The funeral of Edward M. Broeren, 19, town of Holland, was held at St. Francis at Hollandtown at 10 o'clock Monday morning with the Rev. Louis Van Oeffel in charge. Interment was in St. Francis cemetery.

Mr. Broeren died at the home of his parents in the town of Holland at 1:30 Friday morning. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Broeren, two sisters, Miss Corinne Broeren, of Neenah, and Mrs. Peter Broertrup of Hilbert and five brothers, John of Forest Junction, Frank of Menasha, William of Askeaton and Edward and Gilbert of the town of Holland.

LITTLE WORLD SERIES TO RESUME ON TUESDAY

Kaukauna—Kaukauna's "little world series" will get under way again Tuesday evening. The Homans have a commanding lead in the series now, having won two games and need only one more to clinch the championship. Batters for the opening game this week will be the same as last week with H. Olm pitching for the Bankers and Carl Rennieke twirling for the Homans.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna—The Rev. G. E. Boettcher and daughter Olga of Hortonville spent Sunday in Kaukauna visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Summers of Green Bay, were Kaukauna callers Sunday.

Miss Josephine Lamers of St. Croix, Minn., visited relatives here over the weekend.

John Sussa of Milwaukee spent Saturday in Kaukauna with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Arndt of Seymour spent Sunday in this city with friends.

George Bower and family spent Saturday and Sunday motoring through the southern part of the state.

Social Items

Kaukauna—The Catholic Knights of Wisconsin will hold their regular meeting at St. Mary's church hall Tuesday evening Sept. 14. Instead of Sept. 21. A class of candidates will be initiated at this meeting. The meeting was changed to enable the Kaukauna branch to arrange for the joint picnic of neighboring branches at Combined Locks park on Sunday, Sept. 19. All members and their families are invited to pack their lunch baskets and attend the picnic.

MORE BUYERS THAN FARMERS AT FAIR

Kaukauna—There were more buyers than sellers at the monthly Fair County Fair held on the Dodge street grounds Saturday morning according to Mayor W. C. Sullivan. Mayor Sullivan said many buyers came up from the southern part of the state and from Illinois and Iowa with the expectations of buying all the pigs they wanted here but were unable to do so because few farmers brought pigs to town. Consequently many disappointed farmers and buyers gathered at the grounds early in the morning and bartering was brisk while the pigs lasted. A good price was reported by the farmers.

KAUKAUNA SOFT BALL
TEAM SEEKING REVENGE

Kaukauna—Kaukauna's Valley league soft ball team meets the league leading Appleton squad at Appleton Monday night. A week ago Appleton came here and when the fracas was over Kaukauna was on the short end of a 2 to 1 score. The locals will be greatly strengthened and will make a strenuous effort to win the three remaining games on their schedule. Kaukauna still has a good chance for second place. To date it has lost two games and won one by forfeit from Neenah.

The league standings are as follows:

|          |   |   |       |
|----------|---|---|-------|
| Appleton | 3 | 0 | 1,000 |
| Kimberly | 2 | 1 | .667  |
| Kaukauna | 1 | 2 | .333  |
| Neenah   | 0 | 3 | .000  |

FACTORY CEREMONIES
POSTPONED BY RAIN

Special to the Post-Crescent
New London—Ceremonies on the site of the Menzie's Shoe Factory at which Mayor E. W. Wendlandt turned the first shovel of dirt for the new building were postponed Saturday afternoon on account of the heavy rain and held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, a large and enthusiastic crowd being present. The New London high school band furnished music and a number of prominent business men spoke on the possibilities of New London as a factory location and the necessity of individual cooperation and boosting in developing our city as such.

LEGION WILL SUBMIT
CONVENTION REPORT

Special to the Post-Crescent
New London—A joint meeting of the American Legion and American Unit will be held in Legion Hall Tuesday, Sept. 21, at which delegates of both organizations will submit their reports on the state convention of the American Legion and the American Legion auxiliary recently held in La Chasse. The Woottonville Post and the auxiliary will be guests.

The local auxiliary will operate a lunch stand at the Waupaca fair at Weyauwega Sept. 14, 15, 16 and 17.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
ENROLLMENT IS LARGER

Special to the Post-Crescent
New London—A marked increase in the enrollment in the New London Junior high school has made necessary a complete rearrangement in both program and classes, according to Alfred R. Schumann, principal. A division of pupils into three sections instead of two has been made and extra classes scheduled as room permits. The overcrowded condition of the high school building necessitates the co-distant usage of every bit of available space.

This year's enrollment in the Junior high school totals 98 with a possible increase in the next two weeks. This is an increase of 16 pupils over last year, the approximate enrollment at that time being 82.

MRS. MEIKLEJOHN DIES
AT HOME AT AGE OF 72

Special to the Post-Crescent
New London—Mrs. Emma Rudd Meiklejohn, 72, died Friday morning at her home here on Shawano street after a lingering illness. She was born in Hortonville May 11, 1854, and spent her childhood in New London.

Her husband, Andrew Meiklejohn, died in 1912 and of recent years her daughter Mrs. Howard Neff, had made her home with her mother.

Her sons, Gordon and George of this city and Earl of Chicago, were here at the time of her death. Her sister, Mrs. W. G. Nye, of Minneapolis, also spent the summer with her. Five grandchildren survive.

CHILDREN MISS INJURY
BY LOOSENED FLYWHEEL

Omeida—The fly wheel on the threshing machine belonging to the Manders brothers flew off, landing where a group of John Kater's children had been standing watching the machine just a minute after they had left the yard.

Miss Beatrice Tenant daughter of the Methodist minister, who had been attending the training school in Kaukauna, is now teaching in the Forest school near Five Corners.

A large party of Indian children left for Tomah Indian school and another party of children will leave for Wintona Wednesday.

The St. Joseph school opened Aug. 30, and is in charge of the sisters from the Holy Family convent at Silver Lake.

ORCHESTRA AND BAND ORGANIZED
AT HIGH SCHOOLMusical Organizations Are
of Alfred Schumann

Special to the Post-Crescent
New London—A band of thirty-six pieces and an orchestra of nearly the number began work last week under the leadership of Alfred Schumann of the high school faculty. Through the efforts of Mr. Schumann the instrumentation of the high school and Junior high school organization has been raised from a few struggling members to the present strength. The calibre of the band and orchestra, the leadership and the general ensemble effect is such that New London is justly proud.

Music has been played on the same plane in high school work as for the past. The band and orchestra members rehearse at regular class periods and receive letters as for any other accredited activity. This is unusual for a school of New London's size.

The band is composed of 12 cornets, 12 clarinets, 3 alto horns, three baritone horns, 3 slide trombones, 1 bass horn, one euphonium, 3 drums, snare and bass. Other members whom Mr. Schumann is giving instruction out of school hours on his own time will be received with the band ensemble at Christmas time.

The orchestra of 12 members was organized two years ago. It now numbers over thirty members which are the pick of the band membership.

Mr. Schumann has plans for the two organizations which include a series of public appearances in concert work. Dancing parties also will enter into consideration and the proceeds of these programs will be used in providing uniforms for the young musicians.

NEW LONDON
SOCIETY

New London—The card party given by the fifth group of the Catholic Woman's club at Parish hall Friday evening, was largely attended. 36 tables being in play. Five prizes in five hundred were awarded as follows: first prize, Miss Catherine Wilson; second Mrs. Frank Hetzer, third Mrs. P. W. Cernelius; fourth, Robert O'Brien; fifth, Mrs. Dorothy Gilson. In schafkopf, first prize was awarded to Andrew Waushesock, second to Charles Kische, third to Nelson Demming, fourth to Llewellyn Fenney and fifth to Andrew Hetzer.

A bushel basket of groceries was awarded to Peter Dernbach.

The Catholic Woman's club will meet at Parish hall at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon.

The Knights of Columbus will hold their regular meeting at K. C. Hall Tuesday evening. Attorney M. H. Kelley of Fond du Lac state lecturer for the Knights of Columbus, will speak.

The women Foresters will hold their regular meeting at Parish Hall at 7:30 Tuesday evening.

The fifth group of the Catholic Woman's club will hold a bake sale at Parish Hall Wednesday afternoon following the meeting of the Catholic Woman's club.

The Catholic Knights will meet this evening at Parish hall. The fifth group of the Woman's club will also hold a meeting in the hall this evening.

A record crowd attended the Mission Festival held on the Emanuel Lutheran church premises Sunday. Approximately 600 were present in the morning while the attendance in the afternoon and evening was estimated at 800. About $300 was cleared and will be turned in to help swell the fund of the mission treasury.

MINISTER MUST BE EXECUTIVE
AND PREACHERRev. Freeling Describes Summer School Course at Chicago University

Special to the Post-Crescent
New London—That the minister must not only be executive, but a prophet, a preacher and a pastor was brought out with infinite detail during the recent training session which increased the attention of Rev. H. P. Freeling of the First Congregational church of this city. Rev. Freeling at the end of the prescribed course given jointly by the Chicago University and the Chicago Theological seminary, and states that the enrollment included over a hundred ministers representing a dozen denominations, a score of states and Canada. Church problems are the same everywhere, according to the local pastor.

The work of the minister was covered thoroughly, while situations, objectives, methods and tests for the first twenty years of a child's life were covered in the course covering psychological development of Religion Education. Special emphasis was made upon the Christian plan of salvation.

Rev. Freeling spoke with interest upon his recent return home of the pleasure and knowledge gained in the course called Christian Social Economics. In this study visits were made to large industries and every angle of social and industrial relation was given minute study in the light of Christian interpretation.

Take the case of Mr. Wm. H. McCarey, 625 South Outagamie-St., for instance. He says:

"I was completely rundown when I started on Drecto for the past two years had been getting worse all the time. I had no appetite at all for all foods tasted alike to me and I felt tired and sluggish from the time I got up till I went to bed. I was taking cathartics all the time to move my bowels and took lots of medicines to tone up my system but until I started on Drecto nothing helped me.

"Drecto, however, went right to the root of my troubles and I was feeling as well as I ever did in my life before I had taken it three weeks. I now have an excellent appetite, my bowels are as regular as the clock, I sleep soundly at night and have lots of pep. I don't believe there's a medicine sold as good as Drecto and take great pleasure in recommending it to everyone."

If you are played out, can't digest your food, can't work, can't play, have lost courage, give Drecto the chance to show itself the best friend you ever had.

Mr. W. V. Martin the well-known expert from the Drecto Laboratories now at Schmitz Bros. downtown drug store is telling scores of people every day how to take Drecto for best results. Go to see him.

SUPER ROADS PLANNED FOR HEAVY LOADS

Gaps in Important Highways to Be Improved from State
Free Fund

Madison — (AP)—Gaps in important state highways will be improved with money from the free fund of the Wisconsin highway commission. Mr. W. Torkelson, engineer-secretary, announced.

The policy of the commission, Mr. Torkelson said, includes provision for super-highways for the heavy traffic tributary to the city of Milwaukee and for the increasingly dense population in the Fox river valley.

In the course of six years, enough projects will have been completed in all parts of the state so that all of the state will have received the local benefits incident to the improvements, he added.

The free fund, Mr. Torkelson explained, is a portion of the highway funds which the commission can use at its discretion. The fund amounts to about $1,500,000 annually, he said.

An instance of the operation of the commission's policy, Mr. Torkelson said, is the work on state trunk highway No. 12 between Eau Claire and Hudson, where a concrete paved road is being built to give an adequate highway for the immense traffic from the south and east which gathers at Eau Claire and goes west to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

"The same policy makes possible an improvement project for 1927, namely, the concrete paving on No. 10 (or U. S. route 51, as it will be marked) in Portage, Washburn and Marquette counties," Mr. Torkelson said.

This will serve the traffic north and south through the center of the state and will give the fast growing cities and the splendid agricultural country in the Wisconsin river valley an outlet to the south and east.

"Without the free fund, or if it should be allowed to be frittered away in isolated small jobs, scattered around to please local demands, nothing of this kind would be possible."

wyn, has its first showing at the Elite today. This is the opening of a 5 day engagement. This screen version of the famous Blasco Ibanez story is another triumph for the youthful director who already has to his credit such successes as "Sacrificing," "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," and "The Prisoner of Zenda."

"Mare Nostrum" is a powerful story of the sea at the time of the great World War. Ingram produced it on the original locations in Spain, France and Italy described by the author in his book. The result is a delightful combination of a strong dramatic story and pictorial and historical beauty such as only Ingram is capable of making.

Alice Terry and Antonio Moreno enact the leading roles and share honors in the success of the picture with Ingram and Ibanez. Miss Terry and Moreno have played many parts before the camera but nothing either of them have done previously matches up to their performances in "Mare Nostrum."

With the exception of Hurlie Mack who has an outstanding comedy role, the remaining members of the cast are foreign artists, who make their first appearance on the American screen in this picture. Ingram is also to be congratulated in his selection of such a well balanced and capable cast. The German characters are especially fine.

Goldbeck prepared the scenario for "Mare Nostrum."

JIGGS, MAGGIE AND DINTY

The season's annual event aptly describes the forthcoming attraction at the Fischers Theater, for matinee and evening performances, on Thursday, Sept. 16. The latest version of the "Bringing Up Father" cartoons made famous by George McManus, and transferred to the stage under the title of "Jiggs, Maggie and Dinty," is named after the three beloved characters whose reign in the world of laughter and merriment and whose popularity seems to be as impregnable as the Rock of Gibraltar. Not so long ago a well-known critic compared these comic effusions with the classic of another. In his opinion they contributed to the universe as much gaiety and joy as the efforts of certain geniuses whose works have provided food for thought for posterity. The popularity of Jiggs, Maggie and Dinty can well be understood. They have a general appeal. Their prototypes are to be found among the masses are those that constitute the majority. In this particular contribution the McManus heroes and heroine, as "Maggie" is known, hilarity is set loose without restraint or penalty. To the merry accompaniment of side-splitting situations, screams, novelties, innovations, jingling, catchy music and other features that would entail too much space to dilate upon here "Father" and his cohorts "a ra ra go."

Meaning that they are out to tickle the risibilities of their millions of admirers and followers, furnish a delirium of joy and keep pace with past achievements. So what more can be said? Let us forget this particular "Father" show can boast of an inimitable champion beauty chorus and other features of an original trend.

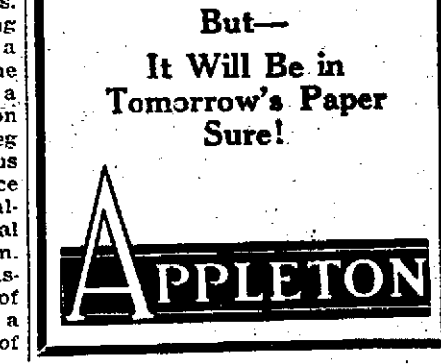

A ROMANCE OF THE CIRCUS "Hearts and Spangles" will be the feature attraction at the New Bijou circumstances is re-united with his family and marries Peg. There are many big thrills in the picture but the crowning one is when Robert Gordon as the clown faces unarmed three raging lions. One of them actually springs on him and throws him to the ground, but he fells the beast in an unusual manner.

An intimate behind-the-scenes atmosphere prevails and the spectator is given some inside views of circus life that reveal things about the tent shows that are not usually known.

7,000 VOLUMES CIRCULATED BY PUBLIC LIBRARY

Almost Two-thirds of Books
Read in August Were Drawn by Adults

More than 7,000 volumes were circulated in August, according to the monthly statistical report presented by Miss Florence Day, librarian, at the meeting of trustees of the library last week. About two-thirds of these books were drawn by adults, and the rest from the children's department.

With the 249 volumes added to the library this month, the total number of books has reached 24,213 volumes, the report stated. The number of borrowers increased from 7,571 to 7,717 persons during the month. Miss Day said that there now are 469 borrowers who lived in Outagamie-co outside the city limits of Appleton and 44 borrowers from out of the county.

Following is the detailed report: Number of volumes at beginning of month, 18,173 adult, 5,791 children; total 23,964 number of volumes added during month, 105 adult, 148 children; total 24,069; total number of volumes, 18,279 adult, 5,939 children, total 24,218. No withdrawals were reported. Number of borrowers at beginning of month, 5,060 adults, 2,511 children; total 7,571; number of borrowers registered during month, 100 adults, 38 children; number of transfers from juvenile to adult department, 5; total number of borrowers at library, 5,168 adults, 2,549 children, total 7,717; number of registrations cancelled during month, 56 adults, 8 children, total 64; number of borrowers at end of month, 5,112 adults, 2,541 children, total 7,653. Number of volumes of non-fiction lent, 689 adult, 758 children, total 1,447; number of volumes of fiction lent, 3,517 adult, 1,865 children, total, 5,382 number of volumes of unbound periodicals lent, 116 adult, 15 children, total 131; number of foreign books lent, 70 adult; total number of volumes lent, 4,892 adult, 2,688 children, total, 7,580.

APPLETON INVENTION SAVES WASTED HEAT

John C. Stillman, 1615 N. Meade-st., is one of sixteen Wisconsin inventors granted patents recently, according to Young and Young, patent attorneys, Milwaukee. Mr. Stillman was granted a patent on a hot air heating system, which is classed as a fuel saving device. The invention is said to utilize the wasted heat that goes out through the chimney from the furnace for heating rooms.

DON'T THROW GARBAGE INTO AVENUE RAVINE

A warning to refrain from throwing garbage into the ravine north of W. College-ave has been issued by city health officials. A continuation of this practice will lead to prosecution of the offenders, according to Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer.

Complaints that persons living near the ravine have been using it as a dumping ground for garbage have been received by health officers. Mr. Sanders said. The practice not only is unsightly but unsanitary as well, and it offenders refuse to heed the warning issued by the city, more drastic steps will be taken, it was said.

AIM OF DRIVE

"Y" Boys Start Pep Campaign to Recruit New-comers to Standard

Boys of the Y. M. C. A. will start a special campaign for boys' memberships on Monday, according to John W. Pugh, boys work secretary. The campaign will run two weeks ending Sept. 25, just before the men's drive starts.

The boys' division has been renamed the "Spizzierinktum" club for the drive. The word is an abbreviation for pep, Mr. Pugh said. To become a member of the club a boy must secure at least five memberships. When he secures five members he receives a red star after his name on the club rolls and a bronze membership award. A blue star and a silver award are given to the boy getting 10 members and a gold star and gold award go to the boys getting 25 members. Though the drive lasts only two weeks, the awards will be made for the specified number of members if the campaign gets them during the year.

An attempt will be made to get as many members as possible in by Sept. 25 and the week of Sept. 20 will be used as a "cleanup" week. One team of boys will work for renewals of old memberships in that period. A boys' division membership of 400 is the goal. At present there are 389 members. A team composed of the best producers during the drive will be enrolled as a unit in the men's campaign which starts Sept. 27.

Three Former Lawrentians Nominated For Assembly

Two graduates of Lawrence college and a third man who attended Lawrence for two years before transferring to the University of Wisconsin were nominated for election to the state assembly Tuesday. Oscar Schmiede, Appleton, representing the first district of Outagamie-co, attended Lawrence in 1920, 1921 and 1922 before transferring to the University of Wisconsin from which he graduated in 1924. He graduated from the local high school in 1920. Last year he taught school at Kewaunee high school. He is a member of Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

more votes than all three of his opponents together, including the incumbent, in the primary election last Tuesday.

Chester Seftenberg, Oshkosh, who graduated from Lawrence last spring, is the third young man. He was nominated for election from the first district of Winnebago-co. He taught debate and public speaking at Oshkosh high school last year. Seftenberg is a member of Beta Sigma Phi fraternity at Lawrence college. All three men defeated incumbents by large majorities to win the nominations.

SCHOOLS REQUIRE COMPLETE RECORD OF DELINQUENTS

New Card System Lists Record of Each Child from Birth to 20 Years of Age

Checking of school delinquencies will be more adequate this year than before, according to J. G. Pfeil, attendance officer. A new card system has been installed whereby a record of each child from birth to 20 years is kept. These lists are checked with the lists of registrations at the schools, and any deficiencies in the school lists are then investigated by Mr. Pfeil.

Mr. Pfeil has been city attendance officer for the last 12 years but his position was only for part time. This year he will be a full time official and will have an office adjoining the superintendent's office at the Lincoln school building.

The attendance records were compiled from the school census reports and will be kept up in the future by the birth and death records of the city health officer. A family card contains the address and name of the parents and ages of the children. Individual cards for each child will contain school attendance records.

Teachers will notify Mr. Pfeil each morning of any absences that can not be accounted for by telephone, and he will investigate the matter. There are about 8,500 children in Appleton registered in the attendance officers records.

John W. Wheaton and Family of Montello, Wis., express their sincerest thanks to the friends and acquaintances for the sympathy and help received by them during their bereavement in the death of their son George. adv.

Phone Girl's "Thank You" Pleases Appleton Patrons

"Thank You." No, it's not a new girl at the exchange, who is over polite, nor have the operators taken to reading "The Book of Etiquette" in their spare time. Rather, the "Thank You" that is heard after giving a telephone number to the operator is the result of a new rule adopted by the Appleton of-

fic. Instead of asking the patron to repeat the number the operator merely says "Thank You," and gives you your party.

Funny, how that "Thank You" affects the patrons. Sometimes when they have to wait a second or two longer than usual before getting the operator, their nerves come on edge, because of the hasty American disposition which demands speed, and the customer is about ready to tell the operator that she must be asleep but the sweet voiced "thank you" takes away all the venom.

WON'T SEEK SLOW RATE FOR TRAINS

City Won't Ask Railway Companies to Limit Speed of Trains in Limits

The action of Madison and several other cities in the state in notifying railway companies that they must comply with speed laws within the city limits very likely will not be followed by Appleton, according to Mayor Albert C. Rule.

With signals and flagmen at most railroad crossings to warn traffic of approaching trains, it hardly is necessary to issue an order that trains limit their speed to 15 miles an hour within the city limits, as provided for in a city ordinance, Mayor Rule pointed out. The issuance of such an order would disarrange train schedules and cause a lot of unnecessary difficulty in revising them, the mayor pointed out.

The action at Madison followed the killing of three men several weeks ago at a railway crossing in that city. Shortly after this mishap Mayor A. G. Schmedeman directed Frank Jenks, city attorney, to notify the railway companies to comply with the state law which requires trains to slow down to a speed of not more than 15 miles an hour over unprotected ed crossings and to not more than 30 miles over crossings provided with gates.

A city ordinance limiting the speed of trains within the city limits to 15 miles an hour has been in existence here for a number of years but has never been enforced, city officials declare. In view of the fact that railway companies place flagmen at all dangerous crossings and take other means of precaution, few cities do enforce ordinances of this nature, it is pointed out.

UNION MEN ARE AROUSED OVER NOTED BUILDER

Fear British Contractor May Build New Embassy at Washington

HARRY WARDMAN
There are a number of reasons why the Washington Central Labor Union has been keeping a sharp eye on him in connection with this job of embassy building.

For one thing he sold the land on which the embassy is to stand to the British government.

Then there's his nationality. He also made a trip to London recently and it's understood he took with him a quantity of plans, blue prints and specifications. For the new embassy. The Central Labor Union wouldn't wonder.

The other day a huge steam shovel, with Wardman's label on it, lumbered into the embassy site's neighborhood. It subsequently developed that the shovel's mission was to open a new street but Washington union labor's first thought was that it was about to begin excavating for the new embassy building.

There was a row in a minute. The Central Union began preparations for an appeal to union labor in England and to circulate labor throughout this country, with a view to an anti-British boycott, if the London government puts up a non-union-built embassy here.

In the meantime a committee from the Washington Building Trades Council called at the present embassy to investigate.

Sir Esme Howard and all the higher embassy officials were on their vacations, but an attaché assured the delegation that no contract for the building has been let yet and that it may be a couple of years before work starts.

That settled matters for the time being.

However, the impression lingers in

CITY MIGHT NOT OBSERVE CONSTITUTION WEEK

No special plans for the observance of Constitution Week in Appleton from Sept. 12 to 18 have been made by the chamber of commerce, although the matter will be brought to the attention of the board of directors at a meeting next week and a program may be arranged before the expiration of the period, according to Hugh G. Corbett, general secretary of the chamber.

According to an announcement received recently from Harry F. Atwood, Chicago, president of the Constitution Anniversary association, the week will be observed in the majority of larger cities throughout the country. Sept. 17 will mark the 139th anniversary of the completion and signing of the constitution of the United States.

The minds of Washington unionists that the British government prefers Wardman, and that he'll get the contract ultimately, unless it's made abundantly clear to London that it won't be healthy, from the standpoint of British interests in the United States.

Several other governments have built Washington embassies in recent years and all of them have been particular to see that nothing but union labor and material went into them.

Perhaps it simply didn't occur to the British foreign office that, as a contractor, Wardman belongs in the non-union classification. If so, in the opinion of the Central Labor Union, it was quite an oversight.

This new British embassy is to be a classy affair, costing $1,000,000.

An oil flame, invented by Oscar Brunler, a Belgian scientist, will burn for weeks under water.

HEARING ON BUS ROUTE CHANGE IS SET FOR SEPT. 16

City Objects to Running Busses to Neenah Over S. Cherry-st

Notice that the Railroad Commission of Wisconsin will hold a public hearing here at 2 o'clock next Thursday afternoon, Sept. 16, at the city hall to hear objections of the city to the new bus route proposed by the A. C. Homan Auto Bus Co., in its application for a certificate of registration covering operation of busses in Appleton, was received Saturday by Mayor Albert C. Rule from William M. Dinneen, secretary of the railroad commission.

When the city learned last week that the bus company had made application to the railroad commission to change the route of its busses so that they would leave the city over S. Cherry-st instead of S. Oneida and Foster-sts, the mayor filed an objection with the railroad commission.

The proposed route is opposed by the city because of the added congestion which busses would cause on S. Cherry-st, according to Mayor Rule. With highway 15 rerouted over this street, the city holds that traffic there is sufficiently heavy now without permitting busses to operate on that route too.

Now that the largest part of traffic has been removed from S. Oneida-st, busses should continue to follow this route, thus avoiding the heaviest line of traffic on highway 15 within the city limits, in the opinion of Mayor Rule.

Starting from the corner of Appleton-st and W. College-ave, busses in following the new route would go north on N. Appleton-st to W. Washington-st, east on W. Washington-st to N. Oneida-st, south on Oneida-st to College-ave, west on W. College-ave to Cherry-st and then out on highway 15 to Menasha.

RAILROAD WINS $15,000 DAMAGE SUIT IN OSHKOSH

Jury Holds Driver's Carelessness Responsible for McGrath Accident

Menasha—The answers in the special verdict of the $15,000 damage suit brought against the Soo Line by Dr. W. P. McGrath of Menasha in behalf of his 3-year-old daughter, Jana, just concluded in circuit court at Oshkosh, were all favorable to the defendant company. The type of verdict, however, is not considered final, the actual determination of the case resting with the trial judge, E. V. Werner of Shawano.

Under the special verdict the jury decided that the plaintiff was not entitled to any damages and absolved completely the railroad and its employees from any responsibility for the accident that occurred in Neenah last June, and attributed the accident to lack of ordinary care on the part of the driver of the automobile.

There were eight questions in the special verdict, several of which were not answered by the jury. The first question asked if Jane McGrath, the plaintiff, was injured on June 9, 1925, the date on which the Soo Line train and an automobile in which the little girl was riding, collided on Main-st. in Neenah. The jury answered negatively.

Other questions asked if the railroad or its employees failed to exercise proper care and if the jury answered that they did not. Replying to the question, "Did Margaret McGrath, the driver of the automobile, fail to exercise that degree of care usually or ordinarily exercised by persons of ordinary care and prudence in managing a vehicle?" the jury said, "Yes."

Menasha—The jury also said, in its special verdict, that "failure on the part of the driver of the automobile to exercise ordinary care, was the proximate cause of the injury to Jane McGrath. The final question was: 'In the event that the plaintiff should be entitled to recover for injuries to her person what sum should be assessed?' The answer was, 'Nothing.'"

In the trial which lasted two days, the plaintiff sought to recover $15,000 damages from the railroad, alleging that she received permanent injury to her nervous system as the result of the accident. Her father brought the suit as her guardian ad litem.

The other occupants of the automobile, Dr. W. P. McGrath, Margaret McGrath and Anna Condon, were brought suit against the railroad. The Dr. W. P. McGrath action was heard by Judge Beginger some time ago, but the verdict was in favor of the railroad. The case was appealed to the circuit court. The actions of Margaret McGrath and Anna Condon have been set for the September term of circuit court.

MILWAUKEE TEAM WINS STATE NET TOURNEY TITLE

Gotfredson Brothers Play Spectacular Tennis to Cop Trophy

Neenah—The second annual Fox River Valley doubles tournament, sponsored by Doty Tennis club of Neenah and Menasha, closed Sunday afternoon with Roy and Henry Gotfredson of Green Bay winning the championship. They defeated E. M. Thomas and R. N. Hamilton of Milwaukee in the finals, 6-3, 6-3. Saturday's playing was postponed on account of rain. The matches started early Sunday morning and continued throughout the day.

The meet created a lot of enthusiasm, bringing to Neenah the best talent ever assembled on the local courts.

The Gotfredson brothers, with a smashing attack and wonderful net play, were forced to extend themselves in the semifinals. The match with Ames and Thelen of Milwaukee was by far the most thrilling of the tourney the score was 14-12, 6-8, 6-3. The Milwaukee team after losing the first set, rallied and won the second, 8-6, but slumped in the third set allowing the Gotfredson brothers to walk off with a 6-3 victory.

After playing stellar tennis throughout the day, Thomas and Hamilton of Milwaukee, weakened in the titular match. As runner-up the Milwaukee pair were presented with the D. K. Brown trophy. Presentation was made by I. J. Stafford, president of Doty Tennis club.

A feature of the tournament was the remarkable playing of Billy Schommer, 15, of Milwaukee junior champion of Wisconsin. Playing with Bruce of Pontiac, Mich., he played as runner-up in the recent Boys' Western tourney.

Another player of note playing in Sunday's games was Joseph Thelen of Milwaukee, who is closed state singles champion and six times winner of Milwaukee-co. and city tournament.

Hamilton and Thelen are the closed state doubles champions. Hamilton also was runner-up in the tournament of Milwaukee-co. this summer.

In the first round Sunday morning, Pierce and Sund of Neenah, defeated Dix and Bart of Neenah, 6-3, 5-3; Hurst and Christensen, Two Rivers, won a bye; La Borde and McMillan, Oshkosh, defeated Engle and John of Green Bay, 6-4, 6-4; Hamilton and Thomas, Milwaukee, won a bye; Thompson and McMichael of Oshkosh, 5-4, 6-2; McLeod and Freeborn of Oshkosh, defeated Foth and Thalke, Neenah, 6-1, 6-2; Rogers and Powers, Appleton, defeated Hartman and Praeger, Oshkosh, 6-0, 6-3; Schommer and Rechevyl, Milwaukee, won a bye; Landis and Clippinger, Appleton, defeated Krueger and Jeffery of Neenah, 6-2, 6-1; Amos and Thelen of Milwaukee, drew a bye; Schneller and Williams, Neenah, defeated Kelly and Stranek, Neenah, 7-5, 6-1; Witzel and Rockwell, Oshkosh, defeated Kramer and Remmel, Neenah, 6-4, 6-3; Strutz and E. Minnehan, Green Bay, defeated Ahrent of Milwaukee, 6-1, E. Stafford, Neenah, 7-5, 6-4, 6-3; Held and R. Minnehan, Green Bay, defeated Kramer and Owens, Neenah, by default; Brown and H. Williams, Neenah, defeated Felker and Peterson, Oshkosh, 5-7, 6-4, 5-7, and Gotfredson brother, Green Bay, drew a bye.

In the second round Hurst and Christensen defeated Pierce and Sund, 6-0, 6-3; Hamilton and Thomas defeated LaBorde and McMillan, 7-5, 6-3; McLeod and Freeborn defeated Thompson and McMichael, 6-3, 6-3; Schommer and Rechevyl defeated Rogers and Powers, 6-2, 9-7; Amos and Thelen defeated Landis and Clippinger, 6-0, 6-2; Schneller and Williams defeated Witzel and Rockwell, 6-2, 1-6 (default); Strutz and Minnehan defeated Held and R. Minnehan, 6-3, 6-3; Gotfredson brothers defeated Brown and H. Williams, 6-1, 6-3.

In the third round Hamilton and Thomas won from Hurst and Christensen, 5-3, 7-5; Schommer and Rechevyl won from McLeod and Freeborn, 6-3, 9-7; Amos and Thelen won from Schneller and Williams, 6-0, 6-2 and Gotfredson brothers won from Strutz and R. Minnehan, 6-2, 6-2.

On the semi-finals Hamilton and Thomas won from Schommer and Rechevyl, 5-6, 6-1 and Gotfredson brothers won from Amos and Thelen, 14-12, 6-8, 6-3. And in the finals the Gotfredson brothers defeated Hamilton and Thelen, 6-3, 6-3.

DRUGGIST IS IN BUSINESS 57 YEARS

Neenah—Wednesday, Sept. 15, will mark the twenty-seventh successive years in which Fred Elwers has been in the drug business in Neenah. He is still in the same store in which he started his business career, although it is now under the management of his son, George, and Albert Schroeder.

Fifty-seven years ago when Mr. Elwers hired out as a young man he was anxious to become a druggist. The store at that time was conducted by D. L. Kimberly and S. F. Henry. Later the Kimberly and Henry interests were sold to Mr. Henry, who later resold again to Mr. Kimberly. The latter then took in Mr. Elwers as a partner, the firm taking the name of Kimberly-Elwers drug company. Mr. Elwers conducted the business after the death of Mr. Kimberly and later sold to his son.

Mr. Elwers still has the books of the first company which contain all the prescriptions ever filled in the store both at the start and up to the present time. Only last week prescription No. 8, was presented by an old resident to be filled. Within a few minutes Mr. Elwers had the prescription ready for the customer, exactly as he had done 57 years ago. Mr. Elwers is enjoying the best of health and intends assisting his son in the store for several more years.

VANITY CASE

by Carolyn Wells

NEA FICTION 1926 by G. P. PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MRS. PRENTISS sees mysterious lights in the Heath house next door one night, and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog over the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, beautiful, vivacious, to whom suspicion points because of her strange actions.

Myra Heath never used cosmetics, never wore colors, yet when her body was found she was heavily rouged. She was a collector of glass, and it was a rare old bottle from her collection that the murderer used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet; nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath."

The strange thing about Heath's disappearance is that the windows and doors were locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning. Finger prints of Bunny Moore and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others. Meanwhile, TODD HUNTER BUCK, Mrs. Prentiss' nephew, has met Bunny and fallen in love with her.

Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Heath. He phones her again, saying Inman is the murderer. Bunny faints under a grilling by DETECTIVE MOTT, and Inman confides to Buck that he saw Bunny ascending the stairs after the murder. Mott questions all the servants and tells them to keep quiet.

Anderson invites Cunningham to his house and there, while waiting for his host, Cunningham is suddenly confronted by Perry Heath, who disappears as mysteriously as he had appeared. Shortly afterward, Anderson comes in, and he reproaches Cunningham for letting Heath get away.

OW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXV

"Oh, I suppose it was just the old story of two men and one woman. I don't think the baby girl was on the scene at all. I believe if she was seen coming or going on the stairs, it was after the whole show was over. I believe that Heath and his wife and Inman quarrelled. Then nobody can say just how the thing happened. It body, still warm—Buck was miserable with apprehension. It was all very well to assure himself that nothing—no sort or kind of evidence would ever make him believe in the possibility of Bunny's guilt, but even if the girl had no hand in the murder, she must have known about it when she came upstairs, white and trembling as described by Inman and with vanity case dangling from her hand.

Much as he wanted to do so, Buck couldn't believe Larry was lying, or even misrepresenting in the slightest degree.

One of Today's faculties was a real stain for the truth. All his life, he had almost invariably been able to tell when any one spoke falsely. It was a sort of insight or second sight, that told him at once of a speaker's insincerity.

This trait, of itself, was a strong asset in the matter of detective work, and the only trouble was, it was working against Today's own desires and intentions.

He wanted to clear Bunny from the faintest breath of suspicion, but every effort he made seemed to result in further evidence of her implication in the tragedy.

He sat on his aunt's porch in the increasing darkness of the evening just at the same time that Cunningham sat on the porch of Sam Anderson, across the Gaybrook bridge.

His thoughts dwelt on the thing Inman had told him, and he tried his best to twist it around to seem a point in Bunny's favor. This he was totally unable to do, and so he let his mind drift back to the girl herself and her exquisite beauty.

More than mere beauty of feature, he told himself, it was beauty of soul.

Why that angel could no more harbor a guilty thought than a seraph could! From which cogitation it is plain to be seen that Todd Hunter Buck was very much in love.

Indeed, he even went so far as to let his fancy play in numbers, even in rhyme. To himself he murmured:

"Your eyes—of a tender, wind-flower blue,
With innocence back of them, looking through—"

It wasn't really inspired verse, but it pleased his aesthetic sense, and carried a little balm to his torn heart.

Then he came back to earth, and tried to decide what he must do. He had elected himself Bunny's knight errant, he meant to fight for her a la mort and a la mode and any other dramatic way he could find. Moreover, he meant to be practical and if being practical meant smuggling the girl out of Harbor Gardens, then, out she must go.

For Todd Hunter Buck was of quick decision and rapid action. He fully believed that Inman had seen Bunny, just as he had described. Buck didn't want to believe this—for from it,— but Larry had sounded truthful and Todd believed him.

This didn't necessarily argue Bunny guilty in any direct way, but it did seem to prove that she knew of Myra's death at the time, and that fact would explain why Carter found her sobbing so bitterly when she went to her room to tell her the news next morning.

Toddy tried to reconstruct the scene that Bunny left when she went upstairs but this he was unable to do.

He thought, it must be that she saw Myra dead, but whether she had seen her killed or not, he had no idea. If she had, why didn't she raise an alarm? Unless,—no, he would never believe that Bunny had herself applied the colors of her vanity case to Myra's face!

Well, he thought, with his usual rapid conclusion, he must ask her about it. It might be hard to do that, but not so hard as to wait in suspense, and perhaps have evidence piling up against the girl he loved.

being taken to prevent accidents to children on their way to and from school, or children playing at recess, and strict injunctions have been licensed to every man on the police force to arrest without hesitation any automobile driver who deviates one iota from the commands or warning signs placed near schools, it was stated.

Persons who are negligent in driving machines, especially where the lives of children may be endangered deserve no leniency from the police or courts—and there is no indication that their offenses will be viewed lightly here, the chief concluded.

Her Own Way.

A STORY OF
A GIRL OF TODAY

THEIR NOT TO REASON WHY
"I brought you a cup of coffee, Judy, dear," continued Mamie, "for mother is still pretty mad and she would make it rather hot for you if you went down where she was this morning. I don't want her to hurt you, Judy. It is bad enough for her to hurt me."

"Oh don't worry about me. Your mother couldn't be as impossible to live with as my father, Mamie, if I ever live to have children I certainly will give them a little leeway. And if they haven't brains to take care of themselves I think I will lock them up in some sanitarium. Tell your mother, now, that I will get out of here tonight. I am afraid that I can't do it this morning, as I am late as it is."

"Where are you going to be at lunch time, Judy?" Mamie asked. "I don't know. Do you want me to call you up?"

"Yes. I am going to see Buddy this morning and settle this business for once and for all and then I want you to know about it. In fact, you are the only person on earth that I would want to know all about it. I would like you to meet him, Judy, she said wistfully.

"All right, I will call you up and you can decide on all the rest of it."

"I hadn't a moment to spare when I hurried into the employees' entrance and up to the store manager's office."

"There I met a very stern-faced old gentleman who evidently had heard nothing about me."

"When I gave him my name and said that I was supposed to go to work somewhere in the store that morning he began pawing over some papers on the desk and his face got redder and redder every minute."

"Finally, he touched a button, which must have rung in another office, for shortly Mr. Armstrong came bustling in."

"What's all this about, Armstrong? This girl tells me that you have heard her. I thought you knew that it was a very slack time with the store. We are having off clerks instead of putting them on."

"Yes, Mr. Smith, I know all that," responded Mr. Armstrong quietly. "But I had my orders to hire this young lady from Mr. Robinson himself. He said that you would please her. The reason why I did not speak to you about it was because I thought that he had probably done so."

"The stern lips of that man behind the desk took on a thinner line as he looked me over. Some way he reminded me of my father. I felt myself grow red. But I threw back my head and gave him look for look."

"Where do you want to go—Miss—Miss?"

"Miss Dean," I supplied. "The way that man asked me that question was almost an insult but I answered with spirit. I had been used to that sarcastic tone from my father ever since I was a little girl."

"I didn't know that an applicant for a position in a department store had a choice," I explained. "However, since that seems to be your policy, I would like to be in the men's gloves or handkerchief department."

"The man raised his eyebrows. 'I am afraid, Miss Dean, that you have not made a very good choice under the circumstances.' He looked at me so meaningfully, that again I felt myself growing red. I still looked him straight in the face however, until his eyes fell and he said, 'How ever, I will put you at the men's handkerchief counter. Miss Alex is quite ill and will not be back for a long time.'"

"Again I raised my eyes this time to intercept a queer kind of an expression on his face. One moment I thought it was pity and the next I almost felt that he was angry."

In the meantime Mr. Armstrong, who had gone back to his office, returned and he brought with him a paper which he passed over to Mr. Smith.

After reading it the man seemed almost flabbergasted.

"So you were recommended by Mr. Hathaway, Sr.," he observed looking up from the paper.

"I don't think I went so far as to say that Mr. Hathaway recommended me, Mr. Smith. Mr. Hathaway knows nothing about what I can do. I told Mr. Robinson that Mr. Hathaway would probably say that I was honest as I had one experience which he knew about that showed to him that I was one of those poor but honest working girls that we are always hearing about."

"How long have you known Mr. Hathaway, Miss Dean?"

"I only met him for about a half an hour yesterday morning. But I know his son quite well."

"Oh, that's it," he said softly as if to himself. I wondered what he meant by that."

By this time Mr. Smith seemed to feel that he had talked quite long enough with one of the little clerks in the store, and he went a boy with me to show me where my station was.

I had hardly gotten behind the counter when Buddy Tremaine came in. I had never seen him, but I knew him in a moment from Mamie's description, and just as surely I knew that he was looking for me."

He walked up to the floorman and evidently asked for some one. The man shook his head decidedly. He seemed to be sure that there was no one by that name on the floor."

I was so sure, however, that he was asking for me that I walked from behind my counter and said to him: "This way, Mr. Tremaine."

I will say this for Buddy. He certainly was all there when it came to catching on."

He walked across to my counter immediately, saying as he glanced around quickly to see what I was selling. "Have you my handkerchief order filled, Miss Dean?"

"Not yet. I wanted you to help me to pick them out."

"All right, let me see them."

Mr. Tremaine seated himself at the counter, and after I had asked the stock girl on what shelves the most expensive ones were kept, I began to take down box after box of handkerchiefs, telling him the price.

"Look here, Miss Dean. You know I don't care a darn about these," he said softly. "You just put me up about two hundred dollars worth of the best handkerchiefs that you have and let it go at that."

"That ought to pay the store for letting me talk to you for a few minutes, don't you think?"

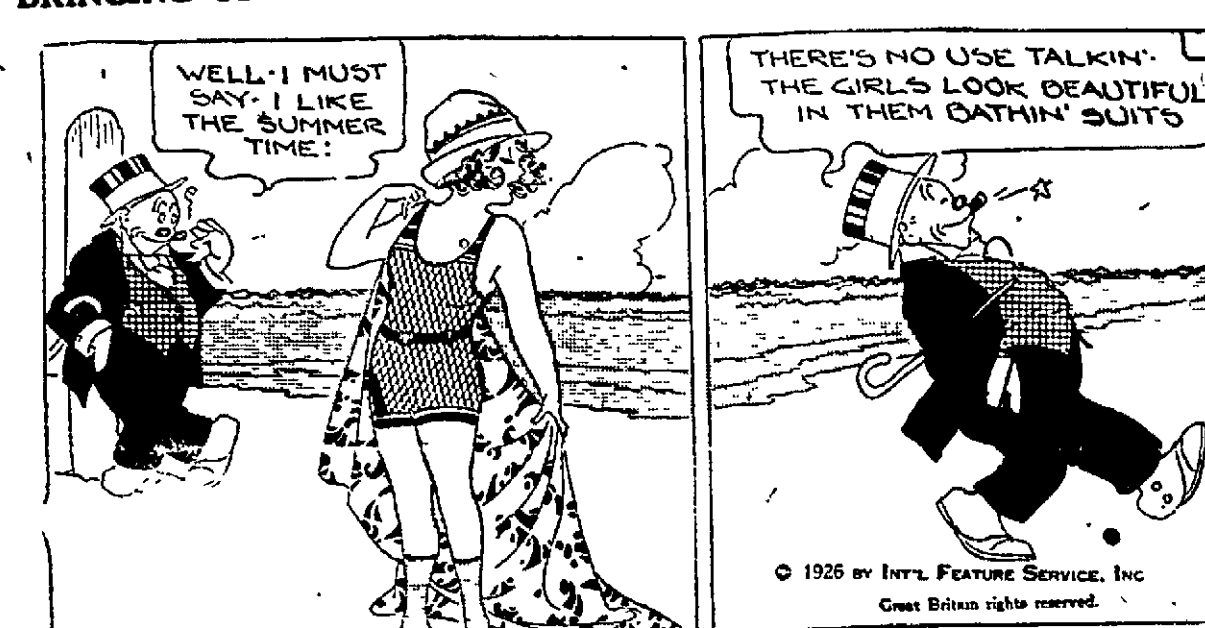

I bowed my head and smiled, saying: "I think I will give you about a third of them in plain white, Mr. Tremaine."

"Oh, damn the handkerchiefs," he said under his breath. "I have something very important to say to you. I was at the Beaux Arts restaurant this morning before Mamie got there and when she came in she told me that she was going to be very busy in the office arranging for her resignation and she said that I was to come over here and buy something of you."

SUNDAY GAMES
APPLETON 1, NEENAH 0
Oshkosh 8, Fond du Lac 0 (non-league)

Otto Sternagle, veteran Appleton hurler, showed much better control than his opponent, Fred Nixon, of Neenah, in the Fox River Valley league mound corps, Sunday afternoon at Brandt park and as a result the local man emerged on top in one of the best mound duels seen here this year. Appleton conquered, 1-0, in a tilt in which Nixon allowed four hits and Sternagle five. Nixon walked six batters, one of whom brought in the winning tally. Sternagle fanned nine and walked two while Nixon fanned eleven.

Priebe was the local bat star with two drive hits in four attempts and Baez and Ashman coined the other two. Five Neenah men garnered that team's well-scattered hits. Madsen starred in the field.

Appleton missed chances to score in both the first two frames. Gosha walked in the first inning, but Tornado popped to Nixon and Al was doubled off first. Priebe singled over second and pulled up at third on Baez's double to center. Radtke ended the frame by fanning. In the second inning Baez went all the way to second on Anderson's pop over his first sack's head. He was caught between bases, however, when Hillman hit the third baseline. Hillman getting a left in first Baez and Sternagle walked filling the sacks but Gosha forced Hillman at the plate. Tornado fanned to end the frame.

Neenah threats were halted in the second and fourth, a double play stopping the second frame try. Powell singled to left and Nixon got in the way of Sternagle's shot. After Weissgerber fanned Handler hit to short where Tornado and Baez doubled Nixon at second and got the batter at first. In the fourth Dombrowski opened with a single and was safe on second on a fielders choice with Madsen's sacrifice. Ashman hurried the pill to second on the punt but the runner was called safe. After Powell fanned out, Nixon loaded the sacks with a walk. Weissgerber hit to third and Gosha caught Dombrowski at the plate. Handler went out Sternagle to Radtke.

In the eighth, Madsen singled and stole second with one down, but Sternagle then fanned Powell and Nixon in a row.

The solitary score came when Tornado opened with a walk. Priebe fanned and Tornado raced to second when Baez went out second to first. Ashman hit to third and Baez was safe at first when the initial sacker dropped the pop when Rod bumped him on the baseline. Tornado, off with the bat, sprinted home on the play. Hillman shot a long fly to the fence, but Madsen made his great catch. In the last half of the ninth, Weissgerber fanned, Handler flied out to Radtke and Anderson fanned.

Fans Favor Underdog; Pull For Cardinal To Win

BY BILLY EVANS
The sport fan is always with the under dog.

That explains why lovers of baseball from the Atlantic to the Pacific are pulling for St. Louis or Cincinnati to win in the National League in preference to Pittsburgh.

That is reason No. 1 for the way baseball enthusiasts are cheering for the Cardinals in the gallant struggle that team is making down the home stretch.

The other reason is the popularity of Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Cards and batsman extraordinary.

Only one National League pennant ever has been won by Cincinnati. That was in 1919. The glory of that victory as well as the world's series triumph was somewhat dimmed by the scandal attached to the classic of that year.

Pittsburgh, on the other hand, has won five pennants in the National League. Likewise in 1909 and 1925 the Pirates copied the world series.

St. Louis, Cincinnati, then Pittsburgh, is the way a majority of the non-partisan fans would rate their choice in the National League race.

Looking over the record of the St. Louis club in the National League we find that since 1892, a period of 33 years, not only has the club been unable to win a pennant but it has never once finished in second place.

Out of 33 championship campaigns the club has managed to finish in the first division only six times, on four Oshkosh—The Oshkosh Carvers liberally applied the white wash brush to Fond du Lac's post season ambitions by drubbing the Cardinals here Sunday, 8 to 0. Geitzen's pitching and Hackbarth's homer in the first inning with two on were features of the game.

Outclass Invaders, Fail to Make First Down

Green Bay—The Green Bay Packers lifted the lid on the 1926 pro football season here by downing the Iron Mountain, Mich., eleven by the score of 79 to 0 before one of the largest opening day crowds on record.

The Mountaineers were hopelessly outclassed by the Big Bay Blues' machine. Not once were the invaders within Packer territory and never did they make a first down. The Michiganders fought stubbornly all the way, but they were bumping up against the greatest pro team Green Bay has ever had on the gridiron.

The Packers shot their entire squad in action and all the players looked good. Abramson, veteran Bay guard, was injured in the first play off the field. The Badger state champions counted two of their touchdowns on blocked kicks, made another on a forward pass, and the others came on straight football after "air drives" has put the "cowhide" within scoring distance.

Lidberg, former Minnesota star, and Rex Enright, plunging ace of Knute Rockne's 1925 Notre Dame outfit, the two Packer fullbacks got a flock of touchdowns, while the other markers were all split up.

Next Sunday the Packers open the pro league season at home with a game against Jimmy Conzelmann's Detroit Panthers.

PICK OFFICIALS FOR GRID SEASON

Valley Conference Holds
Meeting at Sheboygan;
May Have Minor Sports

Officials for the football games of the Fox River Valley Athletic association were selected at a meeting of representatives of the schools in the association Friday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at Sheboygan.

In the conference, sent members of their faculties, and the meeting was in charge of Coach Iverson of Sheboygan.

Lists of officials were presented by each school, and the candidates were chosen from these. H. H. Heible, principal of Appleton high school, is president of the association and presided at the meeting. Other Appleton men at the session were Coach Joseph Shields and Raymond Walsh, faculty athletic trainer.

The probability of including other sports as cross country running, tennis, golf and others in the regular conference schedules was discussed and a committee appointed to investigate the matter and report at the next meeting of the conference in December. Coach Johns of Manitowoc will head the committee.

Until the introduction of such sports is formally considered by the association, separate schools were granted permission to enter cross country teams in a meet on Thanksgiving day at East Green Bay high school. The Green Bay school will furnish the trophy for this event.

The advisability of placing all officials of conference games under contract was dismissed and a committee appointed to consider the problem. Coach Iverson of Sheboygan was appointed chairman of the group. A report on the question will be heard at the December meeting.

Oshkosh high school invited the conference to meet in Oshkosh in the winter and the invitation was accepted by the association. A banquet was given in the dining room of the Chamber of Commerce after the business meeting.

The eight schools in the Fox River Valley conference are Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Manitowoc, Oshkosh, Marquette, East Green Bay, West Green Bay and Appleton. The spirit of cooperation in this conference is especially fine, the three Appleton men believed, and named for one instance of this spirit the fact that it is one of the few conferences which does not require schools to sign contracts prior to games. The integrity of the school is relied on to keep the agreement.

IN LONG SWIM

MAXINE MEITZNER

Ah, no, ladies and gentlemen, this isn't a huge snowball or a big scoop of ice cream, but only Maxine Meitzner, 16-year-old high school girl of Palmyra, Pa. Maxine is getting into condition for an attempt to swim the 25 miles between Cape May and Lewes, Del. She hopes to make the effort shortly.

KIMBERLY WHIPS NIAGARA, 12-0

Squaw Pocan Hurls Two-hit
Tilt and Fans 15 as Winners Slug Pill

Kimberly—Clarence "Squaw" Pocan hurled Kimberly to a 12-0 victory over the Kimberly-Clark Co. team from Niagara, Sunday afternoon at Kimberly. Squaw pitched a great game, striking out fifteen and allowing only two hits, one in the first inning and one in the seventh. He also fouled the ball over the right field fence, first time it has landed over that fence this season.

The Kimberly crew played an errorless game while collecting fourteen hits off Kockendorfer's delivery.

The fourth inning in which the scoring started was Kimberly's big inning, as six runs came in. Kimberly scored four runs in the sixth and finished up with two in the eighth. Vander Loop, Kimberly third baseman, got four hits in five times at bat. Smith, left fielder and Roehrich short stop got a two bagger and a single apiece. H. Kockendorfer and Loepsuer got Niagara's only hits.

ELEVEN EVENTS FOR PREP SPORT STARTS THIS YEAR

State Athletic Board Promotes Most Elaborate
Program in Many Years

Madison—(AP)—Athletes of Wisconsin high schools will compete in eleven state events during the coming season. P. F. Neverman, Marinette, secretary of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association, announces.

The events announced by Mr. Neverman are:

- Nov. 12—Fall swimming meet at Madison; Nov. 12 and 13—University of Wisconsin cross country meet at Madison; January 21—Skating meet at Madison; March 9 to 12—District basketball tournaments at district centers; March 17, 18 and 19—Supplementary basketball meets at district centers; March 23 to 25—State basketball tournament at Madison; May 27—Swimming meet at Madison; May 27 and 28—State tennis meet at Madison; May 28—Annual Interscholastic track meet at Madison; June 3 and 4—State golf tournament at Lake Geneva.

The dates for the skating, state swimming, state tennis and interscholastic meets January 21, May 27 and May 28 are tentative and subject to final approval by the board of control of the W. I. A. A. at its meeting in Madison on Oct. 9.

The cross country run, fall swimming meet, and fall tennis tournament are new events, designed to stimulate interest in the three sports in Wisconsin high schools.

The first university cross country run on November 13 is expected to attract a large entry. High school boys participating in it will be guests of the University of Wisconsin at the Homecoming football game with Iowa. Six boys from each school are eligible for the event, which will be run over a two and one-half mile course. The first ten to finish will be awarded individual prizes of gold medals for the first four and silver awards for the next six. Members of the winning team will also receive gold medals.

In order to stimulate swimming as a high school sport, the board of control decided to hold the fall swimming meet. The event also will be under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin. The schedule of events includes: 150 yard relay, 100 yard breast stroke, 100 yard crawl stroke, 40 yard swim, dives; 100 yard crawl stroke, and 120 yard medley. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded in the different events, as well as suitable team trophies.

The first fall tennis meet will be open to teams of four boys and a substitute. Two boys may participate in the singles and two others will make up the doubles team.

The contestants in the fall swimming and tennis meets likewise will be entertained at the Wisconsin-Iowa football game. The W. I. A. A. sports schedule this year is one of the most elaborate ever undertaken by the high schools of the state.

Secretary Neverman has prepared a list of approximately 125 men who are available for officials at $5 per game and necessary expenses. All are employed as instructors in the schools of the state and a large majority are said by Mr. Neverman to have had experience in athletics, either as competitors or as coaches.

A new high school conference has been organized within the interscholastic association. It includes the high schools at Virgo, Tomah, Sparta, Reedsburg, Richland Center, Baraboo and Portage.

PEFFERLE CHOSEN TO LEAD ORANGE GRIDMEN

Norbert "Peff" Pfefferle, star end on Appleton high school grid squads for the last three years, was elected captain of the 1926 Orange gridmen when the ballots of last year's lettermen were opened. The vote was taken at the end of the season and placed in a sealed envelope to be opened this fall. Al Lietien, the only other real veteran on the squad, was the other candidate for the job. Lietien has played guard and center for two years.

Pfefferle also plays guard in basketball and is a valuable weight man in track.

CARDS HOLD LEAD BY SINGLE GAME

Reds, Bucs Each Take Two Games While Pacemakers
Are Idle in Boston

The St. Louis Cardinals Monday found their grip on the National League crest shaved to a single game. Both Cincinnati and Pittsburgh refused to be counted out of the running.

While the Cardinals were idle in Boston Sunday, Cincinnati turned out a double triumph over Brooklyn, 5 to 0 and 4 to 3. The Reds now have the same number of games to play as the Cardinals—13, and if Jack Hendricks team wins the lot, St. Louis must do likewise to become champion.

Pete Donahue eased the Robins down with 2 hits in the shutout while his mates gathered 13 from the offerings of the speed ball king, Dazzy Vance. Hargrave's home run spoiled the day for Brooklyn in the closing battle when it came with one on base in the eighth, producing the tying and winning runs. With only one out in the ninth and two on the sacks, Donahue was rushed into the box to relieve Laque and returned two batters to end the game.

Commissioner Landis and President John A. Heydler of the National League saw the game.

The Pirates repulsed the Giants twice at the Polo grounds 5 to 1 and 7 to 1. The victories advanced the corsairs to within two and one half games of the Cards and one and one half contests from Cincinnati.

Vic Aldridge beat Fred Fitzsimmons in what started out as a pitching duel. In the opener, Lee Meadows yielded but 5 hits in the second contest while Greenfield distributed 13.

Paul Waner, was the big noise of the Bucs, batting out two homers; one in each game, and was credited with three other hits for a total of 14 bases.
